

YOUR PRACTICE EMPOWERED.

At AngioDynamics, we believe that people living with society's most challenging diseases deserve trusted medical solutions that deliver high-quality care, wellness, and cures to live healthier, happier lives.

We partner with your hospital and healthcare professionals to provide timely access to our team of subject-matter experts to help you build your program.

MEET THE TEAM

Over the years, we have developed a core team of experts to give you the tools you need to succeed in providing better patient care.

SCIENTIFIC & CLINICAL AFFAIRS

The Scientific and Clinical Affairs team brings you expert Medical and Clinical Science Liasons that provide you with robust learning options to increase your understanding and familiarity with our devices. Our clinical team offers extensive support and tools to set your programs up for success. Training is offered in a variety of modalities and your educational experience is our top priority. Resources include case support (onsite and/or virtual), product education, device training, staff in-services and planning calls for upcoming cases including peer-peer case discussions.

TERRITORY MANAGER

As a part of the AngioDynamics network, your dedicated Territory Manager is readily available to assist you. (S)he is your point person who will guide you through program implementation at your hospital or clinic, and serve as your main contact for all of your questions.

HEALTHCARE ECONOMICS

AngioDynamics' HCE team is available to consult with your facility's physicians and/or financial team for an in-depth examination on how the investment in a NanoKnife System program can impact cost of care and reimbursement. The HCE team is also available to assist with scientific literature, materials for authorization requests, and other information to facilitate knowledgeable payor decision-making. Our HCE team can be reached through your Territory Manager or by email at reimbursement@angiodynamics.com.

MARKETING & COMMUNICATIONS

Our Marketing and Communications team can give you access to key marketing tools, both digital and print, to educate your practice and patients on the medical solutions you offer. We will happily work with your marketing and PR departments to provide you with the assets you need to build your program.
